MADISON MAYOR John Bellcoff, Nameoki Supervisor Harry Briggs and Rep. Sam Wolfe, D-Granite City discuss economic plans.

Problem solving

Area civic leaders unite to promote economic growth

By SUSAN SIGNAICO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Representatives from seven local municipalities and governmental bodies voted Monday to form a committee that will seek answers to area-wide problems and promote economic growth.

The meeting was called by State Rep. Sam Wolfe, D-Granite City, who said the idea for the formation of a Quad City Area committee is "way overdue."

"If we were to form an organization similar to the River Bend organization (in Alton), we could throw out problems and discuss them, and set up goals and push them through," Wolfe said. "Unfortunately, we didn't do this seven, eight, nine years ago."

MADISON MAYOR John Bellcoff agreed that a committee geared toward concerns of the entire area would be a good idea.

"Whatever affects us individually, affects us collectively," he said. Shahg Greathouse, president of Metro-East Sanitary District, urged all area leaders to take an open-minded approach to the committee. "If this thing is going to work, we're going to have to come in here with a different type of attitude and stop bickering," he said.

WE'RE GOING TO HAVE to stop thinking about our community only and start thinking of the area as a whole," Greathouse said.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse agreed with Greathouse. "We're going to have to forget our individual political ambitions," he said. "If we want to sit here and play politics, we may as well go home. This area has the potential for growth, but unless we have the proper planning, things won't happen."

THE GROUP AGREED to meet again at 3 p.m. Monday, Jan. 20, in the Granite City mayor's office.

Other area leaders at the meeting were Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, Pontoon Beach Village Trustee Don Rea, Chouteau Township Supervisor Morris Miles, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and Venice Township Supervisor Christ Paschoff.

Two charged with murder

Two local residents have been charged with murder in connection with the disappearance of a St. Louis man.

Charles A. Thompson, 26, of 1908 Rhodes St., Madison, and Pamela J. Wiley, 22, of 4308 Kirkpatrick Homes were charged Monday, according to the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

THOMPSON IS CHARGED with two counts of murder, one count of armed robbery and one count of arson. He is being held in the Madison County Jail in lieu of $250,000 bond.

Wiley is charged with one count of murder, armed robbery and arson. Her bond also has been set at $250,000.

Wiley has been in custody since Dec. 31 in connection with the disappearance. Thompson was taken into custody Jan. 3 in Kansas City, Mo.

MEANWHILE, authorities have been unsuccessful in recovering the body of Clifford Potts, 50, of St. Louis, from the Chain of Rocks Canal.

On Dec. 30, Granite City police released a report on the attempted arson of a Missouri vehicle. A car was found in the 2200 block of the alley between Monroe Street and Lee Avenue. The car's rear window was blackened from smoke and the gasoline cap from the vehicle was found on the ground.

When police opened the car, a strong odor of flammable substances came from inside, and two piles of clothing were found in the back seat.

AFTER CHECKING the Missouri license plate number, officers contacted the owner's wife. She told police her husband had not returned home since the previous evening, and she had no idea why his vehicle would be in Illinois.

Information later developed by Granite City police and Madison County authorities indicated the car owner may have been a victim of foul play.

Authorities believe the man's body may have been dumped in the canal in Madison County. Divers from the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team searched the Chain of Rocks Canal Jan. 1 and again Jan. 5. The canal is the main channel of the Mississippi River for an eight-mile distance.

DIVING OPERATIONS are being hampered by the large amount of ice in the water.

The motive in the murder is believed to be robbery, county detectives said.

Thompson earlier was served a probation revocation warrant, and bond was set at $75,000, officials said.

Authorities are releasing no further information at this time, but the case remains under investigation, they said.

Conflict of interests?

Ruling relates to aldermen

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

It's questionable for an alderman to hold additional public offices, as is being done in the Tri-Cities Area, according to two opinions from the Illinois Office of the Attorney General.

It is clear that a person cannot represent the interests of both government units when these units conflict with each other.

THIS OPINION, released Monday by the attorney general's office, was issued Nov. 19 due to a question about a school board member who also is a city councilman in Logan County.

"The offices of school board member and city council member are incompatible," the Logan County state's attorney was informed.

ADDITIONALLY, a July 1983 opinion from the attorney general's office stated it was incompatible for a city council member to be a voting park board member.

The situations are similar to what exists in the Tri-Cities Area. As examples, Granite City Alderman Jeff Worthen is a Granite City Park Board member, and Madison Alderman Don Garrett is school board member and a Madison County Board member.

BOTH ALDERMEN could potentially become involved in conflicts of interest. Because one public body to which they belong might contract with another to which they belong, the aldermen would be in the position of negotiating for both.

Opinions dating back to 1972 have stated a council member cannot be a school board member, but Garrett has stated he sees no problem in his holding three public offices.

WORTHEN COULD NOT be reached for comment, but it was stated at Monday night's Granite City Park Board meeting that he may resign. The statement could not be confirmed and the reason for the possible resignation could not be gained by press time Tuesday.

However, the park district's attorney had opined after Worthen's election to the city council that Worthen could be both an alderman and park board member.

The opinions of the office do not settle legal issues, said Jerry Owens, administrative assistant to the attorney general's office. He said the courts would have to decide if the attorney general's opinion is correct. The most recent opinion is based on case law issued in 1908.

Patchmobile given

BOY BRINGS JOY WITH TOY. In the spirit of holiday giving, Jimmy Kays (right) of Granite City donated this "Patchmobile" he won from the local McDonald's to the Pediatrics Floor at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Nurse Aide Mabel Johnson accepts the gift, a replica of the car used in "Santa Claus & The Movie." Jimmy said he was too big for the bright yellow and red car and wanted other youngsters to get enjoyment out of it, so he gave it away. He is the son of Robert and Sharon Kays of East 24th Street.

Judges' hours help combat home violence

By BILL WINTER and
SUSANNE INDELICATO

To curb domestic violence, Madison County courts are switching to 24-hour service effective this week.

Judge Philip J. Rarick, chief judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, has announced there will be a judge available on weekends and after regular court hours to handle emergency Orders of Protection under the Illinois Domestic Violence Act.

"THESE JUDGES will be assigned on a rotating basis to be available for consideration of petitions for protection orders," Rarick said.

Protection orders are usually sought by family members who are physically abused by other family members and who need protection until the matter can be brought into court.

Arrangements will be made through the local police department which investigates the incident — to provide transportation and bring the victim of domestic violence before the judge for purposes of hearing and entry of the appropriate order.

A PERSONAL PAGING system (electronic beeper) will enable each judge on duty to be in touch with all of the area police departments. Any police department interested in contacting the judge may do so and leave a phone number for a return call by that judge.

"I hope this will make services of the court system of Madison County more readily available to the public, and at a time and place when they are needed, regardless of whether

Protest expected at Hope Clinic

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

GRANITE CITY — Expect more frequent anti-abortion demonstrations here, vows a Belleville right-to-lifer.

"This is going to kick off a long-term, steady type of picketing," said Tom Cassidy, 29, a member of St. Peter's Cathedral Parish in Belleville.

MORE THAN 100 members of Belleville Area Right To Life will picket the Hope Clinic, 320 Adams St., from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Plans are for protests every second Saturday of each month, Cassidy said Monday.

Hope Clinic Administrator Susan

Morton and Granite City Police Chief Bill Harris are prepared for the protesters.

"We always try to step up security just a little bit," Morton said. "I think it's unfortunate that they can disturb their feelings in a more constructive manner."

PROTESTORS from Belleville have picketed the clinic in the past, but not on a regular basis, Harris said.

"This is a group that is very, very peaceful," Harris said, but warned, "We will keep a close watch."

Though he's been with St. Louis area anti-abortionists who have been arrested for hampering clinic operations, Cassidy said he has not been arrested and the protest Saturday will be quiet.

"It's informational only," he said. "There won't be any sit-ins."

WOMEN SEEKING ABORTIONS should understand what's involved, but some don't because they've not heard enough, Cassidy charged.

"There's senseless killing going on inside the clinic," he said.

Serving as picketing chairman for the Belleville group, Cassidy said he is motivated to protest abortion because someone close to him has had two abortions and he does not want others to do the same. People should join the protest Saturday, he said.

It's unhealthy to be a television bad guy

The bad guys are now getting blown away on TV and any protests are muted.

Americans have seen too many criminals getting away with murder, too many child-molesters released to rape another, too many cruel young punks beating up helpless elderly and getting off because some shameful shammas insisted the guilty was not read his Miranda rights in his native language.

The backlash against crime in America is apparent on TV: "Lady Blue," "Spenser: For Hire," "The Equalizer."

Viewers watch vigilante justice with approval and respond with applause.

William Tucker's book, "Vigilante," relates how the reforms in criminal justice during the 1960s produced an edifice of rights for the legal profession but does not correspond to the public's sense of what the justice system is supposed to do.

Inane complications of courtroom rules have impeded the truth-seeking function of the trial.

And when people lose confidence in the formal justice system they're going to start looking around for their own "hired guns."

Is public displeasure with our courts justified? Some places it certainly is.

Gruesome miscarriages of justice can be traced to the personal prejudice of certain jurists.

Paul Harvey

by Paul Harvey

Any lawyer knows which judge is "hard" and which is "soft" and seeks to shuffle his cases accordingly.

The Los Angeles Times noted that the 9th circuit court, Santa Ana, Calif., had 99 percent of its decisions reversed by the Supreme Court in 1984.

So the Times began keeping score. There are 11 circuit courts. Those most frequently reversed are in California, Arizona and Washington.

Of 20 opinions reversed by the High Court this year, 10 of those came from four courts:

Judge Warren Ferguson, Santa Ana, Calif.

Judge Stephen Reinhardt, Los Angeles, Calif.

Judge William C. Camby, Phoenix, Ariz.

Judge Betty Binns Fletcher of Seattle, Wash.

Each of these is a liberal who was placed on the bench by President Jimmy Carter.

Courts which rely on any criteria less than what's constitutional cannot be consistent.

Feels communists regard military as first option

To the Editor:

George Patton, the late Gen. Patton's son, went to Lebanon for a briefing in June 1982. He and the Israelis found documents which showed plans that the Communists, the PLO (Palestinian Liberation Organization) and the Soviet Union were trying to stock up Soviet equipment for two and a half divisions to cross over from Southern Lebanon into Israel.

Now, why would this be the case? Could it be that the Communists like the oil? Since their oil reserve is running out and they don't have the technology to continue to get their oil, they are going to have to depend on the Middle East for a supply.

They could put their money on their hardware to feed their people by obtaining hard currency in exchange for oil. Their people are starving, economically, and they can get hard currency by taking advantage of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

We always think about how important the Middle East is with regard to oil. But we seldom think about how important the Middle East is to Russia.

The Middle East is the southern doorstep to Russia. Surely they don't want to see the U.S. establish bases in the Middle East at their southern end because it would be seen as a big threat to them.

That, too, is the first reason why they have taken control of the area — to get Israel out of there.

Open bidding urged for work like pipeline

To the Editor:

What kind of construction company installs 24.5 miles of 36-inch steel pipeline for the Strategic Petroleum Reserve? Certainly no small company.

The contract value is estimated in the $25 million to $50 million range. That would be as much as three times the size of any firm considered "small" by federal Small Business Administration standards (under $17 million a year in volume), and would make a small firm a large one literally overnight. It would also be far above the net worth of such firms.

Yet, the Department of Energy has decided that only small businesses can bid on the $25-50 million pipeline project at Big Hill, Texas.

The Associated General Contractors of America, 85 percent of whose members are small businesses, is protesting DOE's decision, and using it to point out inherent flaws in the federal government's 17-year-old small business "set-aside" program.

Concerning the Big Hill pipeline project, the association has told DOE that:

"It is inconceivable that a firm with less than $17 million a year in volume can obtain bonding for a project the size of the Big Hill pipeline."

"The contract winner's total assets and net worth would be at risk should such a large project be attempted."

"The federal government's own historical evidence of higher costs associated with federal projects set aside for exclusive bidding by small businesses indicates that taxpayers could pay an extra $4.5 million minimum for the Big Hill project."

"Stretching a small firm's financial, physical and technical capabilities is no way to foster small-business development."

Because of the "rule of two," 60 percent of all federal contract actions are unavailable for open, unrestricted competition. In Defense construction, that percentage is close to 80 percent.

The Department of Energy, like other federal agencies engaged in construction activity, negotiates with the Small Business Administration (SBA) each year for a minimum dollar amount of construction or other procurement that will be set aside for exclusive bidding by small businesses, and the "rule of two" results in the set-aside of inappropriate projects such as Big Hill.

AGC repeatedly has told Congress and the Administration that the SBA program is not needed in construction because of the ease of entry to the industry, laws requiring award of public contracts to the lowest bidder, the subcontracting system that allows emerging firms to gain experience on jobs suited to their size, and the fact that on many small projects, small firms with lower overhead actually have a competitive advantage over large firms.

"The free and open competitive system already provides equal access to the market to all firms. It provides owners, including the federal government, the highest quality product for the lowest possible price." AGC told DOE, in requesting that the Big Hill project be offered for open competitive bidding.

Grants aid legal services

Twenty-eight Illinois organizations that provide legal assistance to the poor will receive grants totaling $206,000 from the Lawyers Trust Fund of Illinois.

The fund was created in 1963 by the Illinois State Bar Association and Chicago Bar Association. This year's grants are more than double the $100,000 in grants made last year, its first year of operation.

The Lawyers Trust Fund receives its money from interest earned on pooled trust accounts lawyers hold in trust for their clients. This year's grants range from $1,000 to $30,000. About 4,500 of the state's 20,000 private practice lawyers are voluntarily participating in the program. Before creation of the Lawyers Trust Fund, many law firms held nominal and short-term money of clients in non-interest bearing checking accounts. The Illinois Supreme Court changed its rules in 1983 to permit them to place these trust accounts in interest accounts, as long as the interest is paid to the Lawyers Trust Fund.

Lawyers typically hold money for clients for such things as real estate transactions or following settlement or trial in damage suits.

All of the money available for grants has been given to organizations that provide legal assistance to the poor.

Included was the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation, Alton. It will get a $30,000 direct grant to support the extension of experienced staff attorneys to its Mattoon and Mount Vernon offices, and to continue and expand its full-time law internship program in six offices.

Sister Mary Mertens joins SEMC governing board

Sister Mary Sue Mertens, C.D.P., has been appointed to the governing board of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City.

A native of Jefferson City, Mo., Sister Mertens is the newly elected provincial for the Sisters of Divine Providence, St. Louis Province, and will assume the post in January. According to hospital bylaws, the provincial of the order, which has owned St. Elizabeth's since 1921, is to serve as an ex-officio voting member of the hospital board.

A Sister of Divine Providence for 24 years, Sister Mertens most recently has served on the Provincial Task Force for Evaluation of Ministries. In 1982, she was a member of that community's visit team which evaluated the sisters' ministry at St. Elizabeth. She also is a member of the community's committee to revise personnel policy guidelines.

Sister Mertens received her bachelor of science degree from the University of Missouri, St. Louis, in education and her master degree from the University of Dayton in educational administration.

She currently is in her sixth year as principal of Ascension School in Normandy, Mo. Previously, she taught elementary school for 16 years in St. Louis, Granite City and Tipton, Mo.

Sister Mertens will serve as the community's provincial for the next five years. She replaces Sister Lucy

Sister Mary Mertens

Schmidt, C.D.P., former provincial who has served on the SEMC board since 1980.

Transit district approves plans for bus garage

Final architectural plans for the Madison County Transit District's new maintenance facility and bus garage were approved by the district board Dec. 19. It will be built at I-270 and 111.

The board authorized Architect Ed Kane to advertise for bids.

General construction, heating, ventilation and air conditioning, electrical and plumbing bids will all be opened in the district's Edward sville office Feb. 3.

In other action, the board approved a tentative budget for the 1986 fiscal year, with managing director Rudy Johnson emphasizing many major line items are indeed tentative, but that the budget provides a framework within which the district can operate.

Anticipated reserves at the end of the current fiscal year are $3,850,000, with anticipated sales tax revenue ($3,084,000), anticipated interest income ($212,500) and income from the van pool program ($16,000) combining for a total anticipated resource of $7,162,500.

The two largest expenditure items for the coming year are the contractual services of Bi-State Development, for a total of $1,807,000, and the construction of the new maintenance facility, $1,285,000. The latter figure includes land, design and equipment costs, as well as construction.

Paratransit services for agencies are estimated at $61,573 and capital expenses for the paratransit agency, for Community Transit (ACT) are set at $177,000.

Operating and capital expenses for neighborhood shuttle services are estimated at $319,000 and $273,500.

IDOT awards contracts for road projects

Bids for construction work on area road projects have been awarded along with $96.3 million in highway projects statewide, according to State Rep. Sam Wolf (Granite City). The Illinois Department of Transportation awarded bids on 150 projects. Wolf noted three projects in his district total $3.3 million.

Wolf said the following work has been awarded:

PONTIAC BEACH. Replace concrete deck on Route 111 overpass over the Chicago & North Western and the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks and bituminous surfaced approaches. Awarded to Tomcat Contracting, Inc. and Staunton Fuel & Material, Staunton ($1,548,000).

GRANITE CITY. .82 mile of bituminous surface on concrete base, curb and gutter, and drainage structures on East 23rd Street from Monroe Street to Nameoki Road (Route 208). Awarded to C.D. Peters Construction Co., Granite City ($548,645).

SOUTH ROXANA. Replace existing superstructure and portions of substructure with a composite steel beam superstructure on Route 111 overpass over the Missouri Pacific Railroad and bituminous surfaced approaches 2 miles south of South Roxana. Awarded to Staunton Fuel & Material, ($1,207,000).

"Projects like these will allow us to attract and retain business and industry in our area and state," Wolf said. "These three projects are only small steps, but they are steps which head us in the direction of improving our area economy."

Ruling on ill judge awaited

Attorney Leon G. Scroggins of Granite City, on behalf of ailing Circuit Judge William E. Johnson, has asked the state to place the judge on permanent disability. A new judge would be appointed to serve until a judicial election is held.

Re-elected in 1984 to a six-year term, Johnson, now 55, suffered a ruptured artery in the brain in April 1985.

Scroggins, also representing Johnson's wife, Bernadine, said the right side of the judge's body was affected, he has improved slowly and may recover completely, but only over a long period of time, the Judges Retirement System board was told. It is expected to rule on the request later this month.

Jobless insurance tax to rise in '86

The Federal Unemployment Insurance Tax (FUTA) will be 1.7 percent on the first $7,000 paid each employee for 1985 (0.8 percent base tax plus a 0.9 percent penalty), payable in January 1986.

The Illinois 1/1 tax in 1986 will feature a minimum increase from 0.6 percent to 0.8 percent and a maximum increase from 7.0 percent to 7.3 percent, all this on a wage base of $8,500.

Utility costs skyrocket during past decade

The past decade has been one of uncertainty and unpredictability for Illinois utilities. Recessions and gyrations in oil prices caused wide fluctuations in usage of electricity and natural gas, also contributing to an increase in prices, a study by State Comptroller Roland Burris showed today.

In 1975, private Illinois electric utilities received 3.66 cents per kilowatt hour used by residential customers and 2 cents per kilowatt hour used by industrial customers. Nine years later, those prices had jumped to 8.90 cents for residential and 4.76 for industrial customers.

ELECTRIC USE rose 12.9 billion kilowatt hours or 14.3 percent between 1975 and 1979, before declining between 1979 and 1982. In the next two years, sales again increased by 8.7 billion kilowatts or 9.1 percent, to a total of 104.6 billion kilowatts.

The electric utility industry in Illinois is concluding a major expansion program which will increase the share of power generated from nuclear energy.

be nuclear, increasing the state's capacity by 27.8 percent, Burris said. At the end of 1983, a Department of Energy survey indicated Illinois electric power plants were fueled by coal (59.2 percent), nuclear (19.2 percent) and petroleum (20.2 percent).

HE WARNED that a new recession, reducing electric sales, could create a price squeeze for some Illinois utilities. While large customers either produce their own power or purchase lower-priced power from other utilities.

Natural gas prices have also experienced a substantial increase in Illinois, while sales have declined. Residential customers paid utilities $5.18 per million btu's in 1984, almost 3.3 times the $1.57 per million paid in 1975. Commercial and industrial customers paid $4.60, well above the $1.30 paid in 1975.

Sales of 9.5 billion therms in Illinois in 1984 were 1.1 billion therms or 10.4 percent less than 1975 sales.

AFTER EXCEEDING 10 billion therms between 1975 and 1981, sales had fallen below this level during each of the next three years.

Build Illinois approves final projects in county

State Sen. Sam Vadabene, D-Edwardsville, said this week the final projects have been approved for Build Illinois, including $3.7 million for Madison County.

"I am pleased that the task force appointed to review the projects submitted by the General Assembly last spring saw the merits and the worth in the projects proposed for the Madison County area," Vadabene said.

"Each of the projects will bring new jobs, aid the economy and promote future growth in the 66th Legislative District."

—$1.1 million in bond funds to the Environmental Protection Agency for a grant to Collinsville for sewer construction.

—$1 million in bond funds to EPA for a grant to Alton for sewer systems, a sewage treatment plant and landfill disposal facilities.

—$1 million in bond funds to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the University Park business research project.

—$500,000 in bond funds to the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs for a grant to Madison County to dredge the Madison County Ditch and Cahokia Canal.

—$100,000 to EPA for Wood River for sewer, water, and wastewater facility grants.

"All of these projects deal with building our infrastructure — our roads, highways, sewer systems, bridges. A strong infrastructure is the basis of a strong economy and the 'best bait' to lure business and industry to locate in Illinois," Vadabene said.

Taxpayers asked to be careful

The Internal Revenue Service is asking that taxpayers who must pay estimated tax and file Form 1040ES take extra time to complete the payment voucher.

Ira Loeb, Springfield District director, said that to ensure proper credit of any payment, the IRS must have the Social Security number, surname, type of tax and the tax period. Loeb said the IRS experiences problems throughout the year because taxpayers send payments with incomplete information, but most significant at this time of year are incomplete Forms 1040ES.

Class for seniors

Senior citizens interested in learning pinocle may visit the RSVF (Retired Senior Volunteers Program) office between noon and 9 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 9. A senior volunteer will be present to teach the card game. The office is in McKinley School, 22nd and Iowa streets.

Protest

Belleville group's demonstration because it "is the closest to us," Cassidy said.

The clinic has been the target of anti-abortionists for several years. Usually, protests are peaceful, but there have been several arrests.

Last year a man was arrested for allegedly throwing a fire bomb at the clinic. In 1982, clinic owner Dr. Hector Zevallos and his wife were kidnapped by the radical Army of God. The Zevalloses were freed and those responsible imprisoned.

The monthly, peaceful protests planned by Cassidy will last at the clinic "from here on out, until they close. We'll be there to the end," Cassidy said.

The clinic will continue to operate, Morton said.

Abuse

court is in session or not," Rarick said.

The expanded service is being called a "tremendous asset to our particular cause" by Carol Chiappa, assistant administrator of Phoenix House Inc., a local shelter for abused women.

WOMEN SEEKING shelter at Phoenix House probably will use the service, she indicated.

"Generally, if they're willing to file charges or make a complaint, they want an order of protection," Chiappa said.

Paula Bills installed queen of Bethel 43

The 116th public installation of officers of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, took place at the Masonic Temple under the guidance of Charlotte Root, Bethel guardian, and Ralph Baker, associate guardian.

Paula Bills, new honored queen, was installed along with other elected officers: De Ann Toenyes, senior princess; Melanie Paschedag, junior princess; and Christy Dawson, guide.

Appointed officers include Diane Kaltmayer, chaplain; Stacie Hahn, recorder; Kerl Smith, treasurer; Pam Smith, first messenger; Vickie Becker, third messenger; Cary Rich, fourth messenger; Jennifer Pritchett, outer guard; Valerie Almos, inner guard; Marcie Williams, senior custodian; and Cindy Hahn, junior custodian.

An ode to the American flag was given by E. Gene Ross, followed by the ode to the Bethel flag by De Ann Toenyes.

Installing officers included Diane Kaltmayer, retiring honored queen; Beth Barr, guide; Sheri Ashal, marshal; Lisa Gibbons, junior custodian; Lisi Jones, senior custodian; Margaret Kaltmayer, recorder; Kathleen Offt, chaplain; and Harlon Keel, musician.

Sherry Hancock served as master of ceremonies, with Harlon and Jolene Keel as soloists. De Ann Toenyes registered the guests and Michelle Nesbit and Kim Antonovich distributed programs. Prior to the ceremonial, De Ann Toenyes and Melanie Paschedag lit the candles.

The new queen accepted her bouquet of flowers from Mandy and Katie Schermer.

A special choir award was given to Cary Miller by Kathleen Offt, and

Paula Bills

"Jobe of the Term" was awarded to Stacie Hahn. The queen's mascot was given to Paula by Mandy and Katie Schermer.

Special guests for the evening were Mervin Buchenau and Betty Schermer. Other members of the guardian council attending were Dale O'Beir, treasurer, and Kathleen Offt, director of music. The associate council included Billie Bosworth, director of epochs; Barbara Barr, custodian of paraphernalia; Margaret Kaltmayer, promoter of finance; and Betty Paschedag, promoter of sociability.

The nine o'clock interpolation was performed by members of James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and the flower talk was given by Jimmy K. Stuart. The benediction was by Mervin Buchenau, an uncle of the queen.

Armed robbery charge filed

James Jeffery Chapman, 23, East St. Louis, was charged with armed robbery and possession of a firearm Thursday afternoon.

He allegedly displayed a handgun and robbed David D. Hall, 41, of Duck, W. Va., at 6:37 a.m. New Year's Eve at the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza on Route 203.

Chapman is being held in St. Clair County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Hall told police officers a man took $200 in cash and a check for $200. The robber then left the scene as a police car was approaching the truck stop.

The vehicle was seen by Venice

Charges dismissed in burglary case

Charges of residential burglary and aggravated battery against Jerry L. Williams, 39, of 1615 Poplar St., were dismissed Dec. 29 on motions filed by the prosecution. Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill presided over the proceedings.

Williams was charged April 16 with aggravated battery after an investigation by Hartford police.

At this point a Venice officer drove into an alley and saw a man bending down near a parked auto. The suspect ran and, when the officer ordered him to stop, continued running.

Chapman was taken into custody near the front porch of a home on Broadway.

Two other men and a woman who were in the car were questioned and then were released without being charged.

Probation ordered on deceptive practice plea

One year probation and $55 in court costs was the sentence handed down Nov. 27 against Shirley Phillips, 40, of 1300 Klein Ave., Venice. Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill sentenced her after she pleaded guilty to deceptive practice for less than $150.

The deceptive practice charge was filed May 1, 1984, after an investigation by Collinsville police.

Man given probation after plea to battery

Andrew J. Baker, 20, of 2227A Delmar Ave., must serve 2½ years probation, spend 180 days in jail and pay $95 in court costs following his guilty plea Dec. 16 to aggravated battery. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Baker was charged Sept. 3 after an investigation by Granite City police.

Probation, jail ordered for sexual abuse plea

James E. Johnson of Edwardsville was sentenced to 30 months probation, 90 days in jail and ordered to pay $90 in court costs after his guilty plea Nov. 27 to aggravated battery. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Johnson was charged Oct. 15 after an investigation by Granite City police.

Prison term set for Granite Citian

Robert Garner, 43, of 3028 Washington Ave., must serve seven years in prison and pay $90 in court costs, following a guilty finding Oct. 10 by a Madison County jury. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Garner was charged May 28 with residential burglary after an investigation by Hartford police.

Probation, jail ordered for sexual abuse plea

James E. Johnson of Edwardsville was sentenced to 30 months probation, 90 days in jail and ordered to pay $90 in court costs after his guilty plea Nov. 27 to aggravated battery. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Johnson was charged Oct. 15 after an investigation by Granite City police.

Madison woman gets one-year probation

Retha F. Owings, 34, of 511 Washington Ave., Madison, must serve one year probation and pay $55 in court costs after her guilty plea Nov. 27 to criminal damage to property. Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman presided over the sentencing.

Owings was charged with attempted burglary Sept. 11 after an investigation by the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

MAN TAKES WOMAN'S PURSE

A man in his early 30s grabbed a purse from Ann Barco, 1727 Walnut St., Dec. 30. She was walking west on Niedringhaus Avenue and the man approached when she got to the railroad tracks. She struggled for control of the purse, but the purse strap broke and the man ran north along the tracks. The purse contained $34 cash, a cosmetic bag, credit cards and keys. The man was described as blond, 5-7 in height, 175 pounds, wearing a light-colored jacket.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN THREE-CAR ACCIDENT

Two persons were injured Jan. 2 in an accident on Madison Avenue. Hurt was Katie B. Pruett, 66, of National City, a passenger in a car driven by Larry D. Pruett, 25, of 2159 Monroe St. The other injured person was Pauline E. Slaten, 54, of 2501 Washington Ave. Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

The driver of a third vehicle in the crash was Barbara J. Hildebrand, 25, of 2525 Westmoreland Drive. Slaten and Hildebrand were east-bound on 23rd Street, when Pruett entered the intersection. Pruett was charged with disobeying a traffic control signal.

HOME BREAK-IN ATTEMPT

Frank Hahn, 1216 W. Ponton Road, reported Dec. 30 someone attempted to break into his home while his 12-year-old child was there. His daughter heard noises downstairs and ran out the front door to a neighbor's home. An attempt was made to kick down the rear door of the home. It is believed a pet dog scared off the intruders.

Plea to retail theft results in probation

A guilty plea to retail theft was entered Dec. 6 by Abby S. Smith, 21, of 1020 Market St., Venice. Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill sentenced Smith to two years probation, six months in jail, and assessed $90 in court costs.

Smith was charged Sept. 16 after an investigation by Granite City police.

Burglary victim is beaten earlier

A burglar pried the lock facing and forced the bolt on the apartment door of Kim Land, 2108 Washington Ave., she reported Dec. 27.

The intruder broke the shade on a ceiling light, threw makeup on bedclothes, and crumpled a candle over the carpet. Nothing immediately was determined to be missing.

At the same time, the woman reported a Dec. 24 incident when a man approached her as she entered the apartment building. He demanded to know the whereabouts of a woman friend; when she couldn't tell him, he began beating her and hitting her across the legs.

The assailant covered her mouth so she couldn't yell for help and stamped on her eyeglasses, she said. The woman had several large bruises.

WOMAN STABBED IN CITY

Police are searching for leads in a stabbing Dec. 31 at 8:30 p.m. outside Lenny's Tavern, W. 20th Street and Illinois Avenue. Debbie Langley, 25, of 1017 Washington Ave., Madison, told police she was stabbed in the abdomen by an unknown assailant as she and her husband, Jerry, were leaving the tavern. Langley did not see the assailant, nor could she guess the motive. Authorities indicated the wound was not serious.

AUTO BURGLARY CHARGED

Police arrested Kenneth G. Kramer, 27, of Florissant, Mo., Jan. 1 at 2:50 a.m. for auto burglary after patrolmen alleged seeing him bending under the hood of a parked truck owned by Mike Millsap, 2819 Elmace St. While Kramer was being booked, police found a switchblade knife and added a charge of unlawful use of a weapon. He was released on $202 bail.

NEW YEAR'S DUI ARREST

Police arrested Robert Wessling, 43, of 2453 Dewey Ave., Jan. 1 for driving under the influence of alcohol in the 1500 block of State Street. Wessling also was cited for driving with an expired license. He was freed on $302 bail.

CYCLIST CHARGED WITH DUI

Police arrested Dana Holder, 23, of 609 Fleming Place for operating a motorcycle while under the influence of alcohol Jan. 1 at Kirkpatrick Homes.

STOLEN AUTO RECOVERED

A 1978 Pontiac Trans Am, stolen Jan. 2 from Phillip E. Steed of 2001 Illinois Ave., was recovered by Madison County sheriff's deputies about an hour after it was stolen. Steed's car was taken from in front of his residence.

SCRATCHES DAMAGE TRUCK

W.J. Bequette of 2319 Pontoon Road, told police Dec. 30, someone scratched the hood, side and rear of his 1985 truck, parked under the carport at his home.

CAR STEREO UNIT TAKEN

Marilyn Crouch of 2900 Kirkpatrick Homes said Jan. 2 a thief entered her parked auto and took an A.M.-P.M. cassette stereo. The car was in the Proves Avenue parking area of the housing complex.

BATTERY WARRANT SERVED

Mark A. Breeden, 24, of 1307 Washington Ave., Madison, was arrested by Granite City police Jan. 2 on a warrant alleging battery.

Cruise director loves his job

Edwards, at left, loves his job, understandably

Mark Edwards, cruise director of the Fairwind, takes fun seriously.

Tall and husky, with broad shoulders and thick, muscular arms, he looks more like a football player than a cruise director. He was, in fact, a professional football player with the Detroit Lions for a season before being sidelined with an injury.

After a brief stint as a sports-caster, Edwards entered the world of cruising. After about four years as assistant cruise director on another line, Edwards joined Sitar as cruise director eight years ago.

Edwards' day begins at 7 a.m., when he does the programming of shows for the next few days. He then organizes the land tours and travel talks, walks around the deck to visit with the passengers, checks on the printing of the daily programs, organizes afternoon rehearsals for the quiz show and entertainment and, in between, solves passengers' problems, from a broken fingernail to a lost tie.

"The whole activity program for a cruise is designed in advance. It starts out with a gradual pace and builds, so that by the end of the cruise you really peak them out," Edwards says.

Edwards and his cruise staff members are the only American members of the ship's mostly Italian crew.

"That's because 99 percent of our passengers are American. I think the mix of crew gives our ships that ambience of international style," he says.

The 33-year-old Edwards, when he's not charming the Fairwind passengers with his glib wit and movie-star-idol good looks, is an aspiring actor. He has done work as an extra in movies and television and did a pilot of a game show.

"I'd like to host a game show or a talk show," he says, "but right now I'm working at making our game show a success. I'm proud of the show Sitar's put together. It teaches you to think quickly."

Working like this is a lot different from working in front of a camera. Here when we're doing the show, it's just live energy. Whatever you give out the audience gives back to you."

Edwards plans to attend acting school for three months later this year, plus a comedy workshop with Jerry Paris from the old Dick Van Dyke television show.

Working on a cruise ship can provide a few laughs itself. Edwards brings more stories to add to his endless repertoire.

"The most bizarre thing was the time this lady was standing in the middle of the ship's deck, in the middle of the ocean, asking taxi cabs to stop. She's yelling, 'Those taxis—they won't stop!'"

"It's more than just a job—it has to come from the heart."

Health kick

Fitness is more than dieting; it's a whole new way of life

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — I had a few frantic moments riding the elevator to the sixth floor of St. Elizabeth Medical Center where the Going Strong test was to take place on Dec. 5. I always promised myself some type of physical around age 35. After that many years of abuse, a body deserves to find out what kind of shape it's in. That day was upon me. In my imagination I saw the nurses gouging me with needles. I was sure they would pronounce me near death after discovering what rotten shape I'm in. My last encounter with any kind of routine exercise was more than 10 years ago.

It all began when my editor handed me an invitation to attend a luncheon at St. Elizabeth Medical Center Nov. 20. At the time, I thought I was working on a story about health insurance. Going Strong is selling a kind of insurance. It's the kind you get from positive action and not the type you pay premiums on. Hospital staff explained the different tests and how they worked at the luncheon. Then, they asked for volunteers.

The evening before the test I was ordered to fast. I think it was something to do with the blood test. Anyway, fasting was the hardest part of the test. It was a hungry reporter who stepped off that elevator one cold December morning.

I had filled out a detailed computer inventory regarding my lifestyle the day before. In order to be accurate, the questionnaire needed to be filled out to the best of my ability.

That worried me because the inventory asked some tough questions. One question asked if I had been anxious, nervous or upset during the past month. I supposed I must have been, but I could recall no specific incidents.

My wife did, so I checked the box next to "a little bit."

Another question asked if I had a smoke alarm in my house. The possible answers were 1) yes, two or more; 2) yes, one; 3) no. The honest answer is that I have one, but it always goes off when someone is smoking. I took the batteries out of it and put it in a junk drawer.

I have a hard time deciding what is correct when someone gives me answers to choose from. I'd rather fill in a blank. Even harder were questions regarding how often I eat certain foods or how much I eat when I eat.

I turned in the computer profile when I went to take the rest of the LIFE test on the sixth floor of the hospital. My first stop was the orientation room where I registered and was sent on my way to four different test stations.

I had registered for the test with a dozen other men at the luncheon. I expected to go through the tests with them, but I saw none of them during the testing, or afterwards when I went over the results with program administrators.

The test for musculo-skeletal fitness was a painful experience. I was amazed how much it hurt when I tried to extend my hands out past my toes. I ended up with one of my better scores on that test, though.

I was average in endurance. I did 29 sit-ups in a minute. The test of my vital lung capacity showed it to be average. I got good marks in cardiovascular fitness, especially my blood pressure. I ran up and down steps for nine minutes during that test.

I got very low marks for never getting any exercise or workouts. The grip test revealed I have a weak grip. My wife always says I can't hang onto money. Now, I know why. I can see there are many good uses for this test.

The greatest benefit comes from the feeling that I'm not as out of shape as I thought I was. That alone would be worth the price of the test.

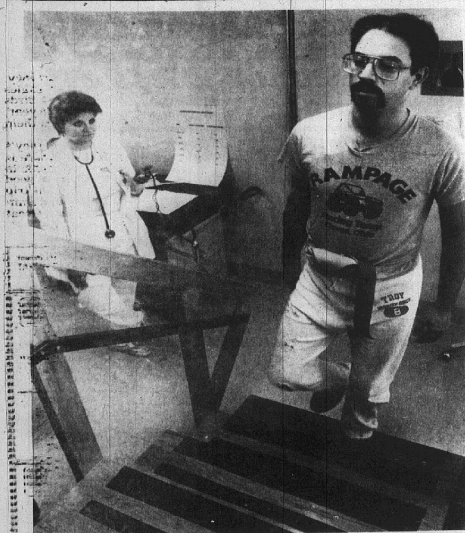

I got excellent marks in two areas of dealing with stress, good marks in every stress category but energy level. The computer characterized me as an average guy when it came to energy.

The computer must have gagged when it saw my diet. Only my score on personal safety was lower. Both nearly failed to register. Nutrition recommendations filled the lower margin on this page of my Going Strong report.

The report warned me to reduce my intake of animal fats and refined and cholesterol-rich foods. I must increase intake of vitamins A and C and complex carbohydrates (pasta).

I got low marks in nutrition even though I got five extra points for

Marquette coaxes comet watchers with view

So you want to view Halley's Comet? Why not combine comet viewing with an overnight trip which includes antique shops, art galleries, good restaurants, hiking and bird watching?

The destination is Pere Marquette State Park in Illinois, about 35 miles north of St. Louis on the Illinois River.

Depending on interests, stops can be made at Alton, Elsie and Grafton, Ill. These historic river towns are interesting.

But before pursuing the comet, visit the St. Louis Science Center in Forest Park. Their free pamphlet, "The Return of Halley's Comet," gives instructions and a chart for tracking the comet. You'll also need warm clothes, binoculars, a flashlight and a clear night.

It would be best to leave St. Louis by midmorning and cross the Mississippi River at Alton, Ill. Take the Great River Road, (Illinois Hwy. 3) northwest out of Alton. This is a scenic drive along the banks of the Mississippi River. Ten miles beyond Alton is the village of Elsie. While driving its quiet streets past quaint houses nestled between high hills along the river, one almost expects to hear the whistle of the river boats that used to dock at Elsie Landing.

History buffs may visit the Elsie Museum before heading for La Salle Street Restaurant, where homemade soups, breads, sandwiches and desserts are served in a homey, cheerful atmosphere. Elsie Landing is open from 11:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Don't miss this gem.

A few miles further along the Great River Road is Grafton. Antique buffs will enjoy browsing through the three shops that line the highway—Tara Point Antiques, Golden Eagle Antiques, and Drake's Antiques.

It is only a few miles to Pere Marquette Park from Grafton. The park's lodge is rustic and inviting. For the lazy, it is time for a nap, a good novel, or a game of chess using the lobby's 12-foot chess board and two-foot chess men.

For the more energetic, there are scenic hiking trails. Bird watchers can study wild ducks and geese feeding in the fields near the river.

Comet watchers head outdoors at dusk. Halley's Comet is seen in January about one hour after sunset. Drive 1.1 miles from the lodge up the park road to the lookout at the top of the ridge. This is a good location for comet sighting. The stars are amazingly bright away from the glow of the city, and with a flashlight and a star chart you should easily locate Aquarius, the constellation where the comet may be seen this month.

By now you'll be ready for dinner. The lodge dining room features hearty country style food served by cheerful waitresses. Fried chicken and homemade fruit cobbler are house specialties.

In the morning after a hearty breakfast, consider a hike in the park, keeping a lookout in the woods for eagles and wild turkey.

Geese and ducks are constantly flying overhead in large formations.

Views of the river and the surrounding countryside are spectacular from the bluffs in the park. Antique lovers may decide to head back to the Great River Road to Alton. There are numerous shops here in which to browse. Be sure to visit the Third Street Gallery of artist Arthur Towata.

Next door is the Third Street Restaurant. This very special eatery offers a wide selection of quiches, sandwiches and such entrees as turkey rice florentine and spanakopita. Owner Charlotte Thomas also creates some marvelous desserts.

If you return to St. Louis via the bridge at Alton and Missouri Hwy. 67, keep an eye out for eagles fishing in the river. These birds stay in the woods most of the year, but January weather brings them out to dive for fish.

And if you didn't see Halley's Comet, don't be too sad. There is sight again. That will be a good excuse for another overnight trip to experience the beauty and sample the wares along the Great River Road.

Comet-making demonstrated at Forest Park center

Have you ever wondered what a comet was made of? The St. Louis Science Center-Forest Park will reveal the "secret recipe" in a new live science demonstration.

During the demonstration, dry ice, water, ammonia, potting soil, talcum powder and Karo syrup are mixed to produce a representation of a comet nucleus. This "dirty snowball" is then placed under a heat lamp which melts the ice and produces carbon dioxide vapors. These vapors float from the nucleus of the model comet in much the same way as the tail of a real comet. Science Center Science Showplace Coordinator Dwight Downs says that this mixture is a fair representation of what scientists believe comets are made of.

This 10-minute show, the first in a series of "kitchen chemistry" demonstrations, will be offered free in the exhibit gallery of the Science Center-Forest Park through Jan. 3. Showtimes are: Monday through Friday, noon; Saturday, 11 a.m.; and Sunday, 1:30 p.m. This special comet demonstration will return in April when Halley's Comet will be readily apparent in the night sky.

Parking and the exhibit gallery are free. There are nominal admission fees for the Star Theater, Discovery Room and Computer Connection. For more information concerning Science Center hours and prices, please call 289-4444.

St. Elizabeth's offers new health program to individuals

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — If you knew you could improve your health by changing health habits and lifestyle, would you do so?

Preventive medicine and the health conscious '80s have combined to produce generally accepted recommendations for lifestyle which can not only increase longevity, but promote quality health if practiced.

A Lifestyle Inventory and Fitness Evaluation (LIFE) program will be available locally through St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Going Strong wellness program this spring when renovation of the old McKinley School is complete.

Going Strong doesn't promise to give you a statuesque physique, but it does estimate how much longer you could live if you follow the suggestions which come as the end result of the program.

Health insurance carriers sometimes pick up the costs of the program.

What is it worth to know how high your cholesterol level, how strong your heart or how impaired your lung capacity? Does $160 sound reasonable?

Today, one can enroll in the Going Strong program and take steps to eliminate health risks before experiencing heart disease, diabetes, cancer or lung disease.

Cost of the program could be as much as $241 or as little as $23. It depends on what types of tests people want done.

"Working with the cardiac unit, I see a lot of people come through our program after they've had a heart attack," said Pam Bierbaum, program coordinator. "They never miss a class."

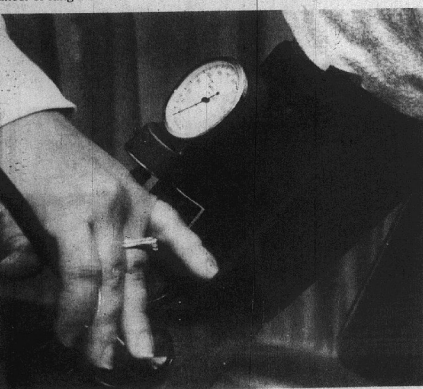

"I would like to see the same dedication from people before they have heart attacks," she said. "I would rather see them in class than in intensive care."

Going Strong focuses on helping people achieve optimum health, thereby reducing their risk of developing chronic, disabling illnesses.

Health promotion programs are becoming an important feature of many corporate health care plans because promoting good health is the best, long-term strategy for keeping health care costs in line.

Going Strong was originally offered to area businesses concerned with getting an adequate return on health care investment and a proportionate return in the productivity of their employees.

Because the program identifies health risks to individuals, it will be offered to the public this spring. The hospital also offers a menu of courses that implement lifestyle changes that may need to be made.

Blood pressure

High blood pressure and heart disease are one of the leading killers of Americans. Yet, improvements in diet and lifestyle can reduce one's risk simply by maintaining weight and watching what you eat.

• Health—

weighing in within recommended guidelines.

The LIFE evaluation and Going Strong profile estimate my body's age at 34.0 years. My real age is 33.5. People my age are supposed to live to be 72.5 years old, according to the test I'm going. It also estimates I could live to be 79 if I follow the basic suggestions listed in the profile.

Overall, those recommendations were to reduce body fat, eat a more balanced diet, exercise more, get more sleep and drive safely.

I've already been to the library to become more familiar with diet and foods which contain cholesterol. I want to know what to think of the program until Christmas in the year 2023.

I'll be 71.5 years old that day.

Why Lose Weight Only To Gain It Back?

Most weight control programs are concerned with only one thing — rapid weight loss. They all talk about how many pounds you can lose and how fast. These crash diets are never concerned with lifetime results. And the pounds always come rolling back.

Long-term weight control requires a total life style approach. One in which your ideal weight is scientifically determined, safely achieved and intelligently maintained. And that's exactly what THE NATURAL WAY TO WEIGHT CONTROL is all about. It works with nature, not against it, to help you lose naturally.

Discover for yourself how lifetime weight control can be a reality. If you're going to lose weight, why not lose it for good? Make THE NATURAL WAY TO WEIGHT CONTROL your last loss.

Treat family and friends to a quality meal

Follow tradition with ham

Consumers interested in nutritious food and lean meats will find the U.S. Department of Agriculture's new Protein Fat Free (PFF) ham labeling regulations helpful when selecting hams at a supermarket meat case. The new regulations, which went into effect April 15, mark the beginning of a new era of information for selecting hams.

The new regulation is based on an evaluation of fat-free meat protein, rather than the amount of curing solution (basically water), which is present in ham.

Under the new regulations, four categories of hams will be allowed. Their product names will appear on package labels and meet the following criteria:

Ham: Contains no added water and at least 20.5 percent protein after the fat has been removed.

Ham with natural juices: Contains at least 18.5 percent protein. Ham, water added: Contains up to 10 percent added water, but still retains at least 17 percent protein. Ham and water products: Contains any amount of water, as long as the proper amount is indicated. For example, the label will state "so much percent of weight is added ingredients."

Thus, products labeled simply "ham" would have the least amount of added ingredients, contain the most amount of protein per serving, be firm and lean, and probably have the highest price tags. On the opposite end of the labeling spectrum, a "ham and water product" would contain more added water and less protein per serving, have the most amount of added ingredients, be juicy and tender and have a lower price tag.

Apricot and Nut Glazed Ham is prepared with a 4 to 6-pound boneless fully-cooked smoked ham. To make it festive, glaze it with a combination of apricot preserves, chopped pecans and cloves during the last 20 minutes of roasting. For dessert serve an elegant pecan pie, made up-to-date with chocolate flavor. Pecan pie is simple to make and this version is no more difficult than others for a marvelous, sweet end to a superb feast from start to finish.

Glazed ham

4 to 6 lb. boneless fully-cooked smoked ham half
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. water
½ cup apricot preserves

¾ cup chopped pecans
½ tsp. ground cloves
Canned apricot halves, if desired
Boston lettuce leaves, if desired
Place ham on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb is centered in the thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover.
Roast in 325° oven until thermometer registers 130° to 140°. Allow 18 to 25 minutes per pound. Meanwhile, stir mustard into water. Combine with apricot preserves, pecans and cloves. Spread glaze over ham 20 minutes before end of cooking time.
Garnish ham with apricot halves and Boston lettuce leaves, if desired.
Note: A boneless fully-cooked smoked ham will yield four to five 3-ounce cooked servings per pound.

Potato skins make a quick, tasty snack

Mrs. Richard Sorelli, 206 Marilyn Estates Drive, is the winner of a filet mignon dinner for two at Cusani's Restaurant for her Parmesan Potato Skins.

If there are duplicate entries, the one postmarked earliest may be judged a winner. If a single household is submitting more than one recipe, they may be sent in a single envelope.

Candied Potatoes

Care should be taken in submitting recipes, all of which should be typewritten. Doublecheck all entries, to be certain both ingredients and directions are correct. Type the recipe, double-spaced, on paper larger than 3-by-5-inch cards, using only one side of the paper.

If a favorite recipe has been submitted in a previous contest category but did not receive a prize, it may be submitted again since each contest is separate. Contest winners are eligible to enter again after six months. Winners must live within the circulation boundaries of the paper in which they win.

Parmesan potatoes

4 large baking potatoes
1½ tbsp. butter, melted
2 tbsp. parmesan cheese
½ tsp. onion salt
Scrub potatoes and wipe on a light coating of oil. Prick potatoes with a fork.

Bake 50 to 60 minutes in a 400° oven or until potatoes are soft. Cool slightly.
Cut each potato in quarters lengthwise. Scrape out most of the pulp.
Lay skins on a baking sheet, pulp-side up. Bake until crisp, 10 or 15 minutes.
Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle with cheese and onion salt. Broil until golden and crispy. Makes 16 skins.

Pecan pie

¾ cup Minot
¾ cup white syrup
3 eggs
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tbsp. cornmeal, if desired
1 cup brown or white sugar
1 cup pecans
1 unbaked pastry shell (9-inch)

Beat Minot, syrup and egg-well. Blend in salt, vanilla, cornmeal and sugar. Stir in pecans. Pour into pie shell. Bake at 375° for 10 minutes. Lower temperature to 325° and continue baking until knife inserted near center comes out clean, about 35 minutes.

Ginger bread

4 large carrots
2 tart red apples
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tsp. honey
2 tsp. prepared mustard
½ tsp. ginger

Peel carrots, cut into julienne strips. Cook in lightly salted water until tender-crisp, about 5 minutes. Drain.
Core apples and cut into thick slices.
Melt butter in large skillet. Stir in honey, mustard and ginger. Add apples and carrots; heat gently until apples are just tender, about 7 minutes.
Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Citrus butter

¾ cup butter or margarine
2 tsp. grated lemon or orange peel
2 tsp. lemon or orange juice
1/8 tsp. dill weed
¼ cup sliced almonds, toasted

In saucepan, melt butter with lemon peel, juice and dill. Add almonds; heat.
Makes about ½ cup.
Serve over cooked zucchini, cauliflower, broccoli, asparagus, carrots, green beans, etc.

Americans eating seafood swim into healthful lifestyle

Concern about development of coronary heart disease is convincing many Americans to choose fillet of sole over filet mignon. Unlike red meats, most seafood is low in total fat, saturated fat and cholesterol.

About 43 percent of the fat in beef and 36 percent of the fat in pork is saturated fat, compared to 12 to 27 percent of the fat found in fish and shellfish. The lower overall fat content of fish makes it a low-calorie source of protein, B vitamins and minerals. Fish is not only a protein-rich replacement for fattier red meats in the diet, but also may help prevent the formation of clogged arteries.

Within the last several years, studies have indicated that fish is a major source of fatty acids called Omega-3s, which have been associated with lower levels of blood cholesterol and triglycerides.

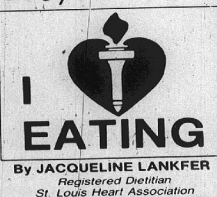

Researchers first studied Greenland Eskimos and the Japanese, whose diets largely consisted of seafood. Population studies revealed a low incidence of heart disease, low blood triglycerides, high amounts of the beneficial high-density lipoproteins (HDL) and low levels of cholesterol. Further studies link Omega-3 fatty acids with the prevention of blood clots, atherosclerosis and heart attacks.

Seafood is a natural heart-healthy food. It fits well into the American Heart Association dietary recommendations to lower total intake of fats, especially saturated fats in the diet.

Does all fish fit into this heart-healthy category? What about the higher cholesterol varieties such as shrimp and lobster?

Shrimp and lobster are high in cholesterol compared to other fish and shellfish. Some researchers believe the fish oils in these varieties counteract the cholesterol. More research is needed to determine whether this theory is true. The AHA diet allows shrimp and lobster, but limits portions to three ounces once a week.

No studies have determined a minimum recommendation for fish consumption, but two or three seafood meals a week seems reasonable. If seafood is not a regular part of the diet, start by eating one fish meal a week.

Next week this column will tell how to prepare fish and shellfish. Halibut Ragout is a versatile entree which can be served all year long.

Halibut stew

- 2 lb. halibut, fresh or frozen
- 2 tsp. oil
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- stalks celery, sliced diagonally
- 3 carrots, cut julienne
- 1 (28 oz.) can tomatoes
- 1 cup dry white wine
- Freshly ground pepper
- 1/2 tsp. thyme
- 1/2 tsp. basil
- 3 tsp. minced parsley

Thaw the halibut if necessary. Cut into 1-inch pieces.

Saute onion, garlic, green pepper, celery and carrots in oil.

Add tomatoes, wine, pepper, thyme, basil and 1 tsp. parsley. Cover and simmer 20 minutes.

Add halibut. Cover and simmer 5 to 10 minutes more, or until done.

Sprinkle with the remaining parsley.

*Yields 8 servings, about 2 quarts. Each serving provides about 208 calories, 8 mg. fat, 223 mg. sodium and 40 mg. cholesterol.

Stuffing peaks, full of bread and mashed potatoes, browned in oven atop tender pork chops. It makes a delicious wintertime supper for a family of six.

Cajun pork chops*

- 6 lean pork chops (1/2-inch thick)
- 1 tsp. garlic salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- Instant mashed potatoes (enough for 4 servings)
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup margarine or butter
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 1/8 tsp. red pepper
- 5 slices bread, cut into 1/2-inch cubes (about 6 cups)

Cook pork chops in 10-inch skillet until brown on both sides.

Arrange in ungreased 13-by-9 inch baking dish. Sprinkle with garlic salt and pepper. Pour tomato sauce over top.

Prepare potatoes as directed on package for four servings; reserve.

Cook onion, celery and green pepper in margarine in same skillet over medium heat until tender. Stir in mustard, red pepper and bread. Stir in potatoes.

Spoon potato mixture onto each pork chop. Bake, uncovered, at 375° until pork chops are tender, 45 to 60 minutes.

Makes 6 servings.

Hot buttered cider

Bring 2 quarts sweet apple cider, 3 sticks cinnamon, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 teaspoon whole allspice and 1 teaspoon chopped candied ginger to a boil in saucepan. Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Strain before serving.

Garnish each serving with a butter ball and a stick of cinnamon.

Spice up pastry

To add flavor, texture and color to a 9-inch pastry, stir into the flour 1/8 teaspoon allspice, two tablespoons finely chopped nuts or one tablespoon toasted sesame seed.

Peppermint tops a cloud of pie

Sugar and spice and rice, too, make a colorful and delicious pie to serve during the holiday season and the many months that follow. The sugar and spice in Peppermint Cloud Rice Pie are in the easy-to-make rice pudding. The rice may be cooked especially for the pie or left from another meal. The creamy filling is the result of slowly cooking tender, fluffy rice with milk until it reaches a soft, custard consistency. Then it is made firm with the addition of eggs, and flavored with a bit of vanilla. After the filling chills in its chocolate cookie crumb crust, it is ready for its swirled-on topping, made from a mix and a sprinkling of peppermint candy. This is a pie to serve in small portions since it is deliciously rich, though not as rich in calories as it may look. By using cooked rice to increase the volume of the filling and a mix for the fluffy topping, the calorie count can be kept at a minimum.

Peppermint pie

3 cups cooked rice
3 cups milk
1 cup sugar
2 tsp. salt
2 eggs
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. vanilla
1 chocolate cookie crumb crust
1 envelope (1 1/2 oz.) whipped topping mix
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy

Combine rice, 2 1/2 cups milk, sugar and salt in a medium saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 20 to 25 minutes, or until very thick and creamy, stirring occasionally. Beat eggs with remaining milk. Stir into rice mixture. Cook 2 minutes. Add butter and vanilla. Cool. Turn into crumb crust. Chill. Combine topping mix and milk; whip until it stands in stiff peaks. Fold in peppermint candy. Swirl on top of pie before serving. Garnish with bits of peppermint candy, if desired. Makes one 9-inch pie.

A chocolate cookie crust contrasts a filling of rice pudding and whipped topping that springs into flavor action with a sprinkling of crushed peppermint candy.

Food fillers

Mushroom burgers

1 medium onion, coarsely chopped
 1 tsp. margarine or butter
 1 lb. ground beef
 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 cup water
 2 tsp. cornstarch
 1/2 tsp. instant beef bouillon
 1 (4 1/2 oz.) jar sliced mushrooms, undrained
 4 hamburger buns, split

In large skillet, saute onion in margarine. Shape ground beef into 8 thin patties.

Spoon onions onto center of 4 patties. Sprinkle each with Worcestershire sauce. Cover each with remaining patties; press edges to seal.

In same skillet, cook patties over medium-high heat, about 5 minutes or until browned well on one side. Carefully turn patties; reduce heat and cook 6 to 8 minutes or until done as desired.

Meanwhile, in small saucepan combine water, cornstarch and bouillon. Add undrained mushrooms; heat until sauce is smooth and thick, stirring often.

Top each hot burger with cheese slice. Place burgers in buns; spoon mushroom sauce over burgers.

Serve hot.
 Makes 4 servings.

Pizza bread

1/2 lb. ground beef
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) refrigerated white bread loaf
 1 small onion, chopped
 1 tsp. oregano leaves
 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
 1/8 to 1/4 tsp. crushed red pepper pods
 1 small tomato, chopped
 1 cup shredded mozzarella or cheddar cheese

Cut loaf in half crosswise. Roll each piece of dough on lightly floured surface into 12-by-4-inch rectangle. Place on lightly greased baking sheet; prick dough with fork.

Bake in 450° oven 4 minutes. Meanwhile, cook and stir ground beef, onion, oregano, garlic salt and red pepper in frying pan until beef loses pink color. Pour off drippings.

Spoon an equal amount of beef mixture on each crust; top with tomato and cheese. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until edges of crust are light brown and crisp.

Yields 2 servings of one pizza bread each or 12 snack slices, 1 1/2 inches wide.

Freeze cookie dough

Most cookie doughs freeze beautifully. If you have several months if properly wrapped for freezer storage in an airtight container or in moistureproof, vapor-proof wrap. Before using, thaw dough in its wrap in refrigerator, then bring to room temperature or until it is soft enough to spoon, roll, mold or press.

Redbirds' hot shooting dooms Warriors, 85-80

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

ALTON Unfortunately for Granite City, the game here Saturday night turned into two against one.

Tim Hogan pumped in 28 points for the Warriors, but the Alton Redbirds had a dynamic duo of Larry Smith and Bobby Collins. The two senior guards combined for 55 points and the whole Alton team shot the lights out while holding off the Warriors, 85-80, to grab a share of the Southwestern Conference lead.

The Warriors are now 3-1 in the league, while Alton went to 2-0. If you're looking for a reason why the Warriors dropped to 11-2, look no farther than the shooting of the Redbirds. Alton shot 77 percent from the field, an unbelievable 37-of-48, as they raced to a 13-point lead early in the fourth quarter.

Granite City fought back to cut the margin to one point behind the outside shooting of Hogan and the inside work of Tom Taylor and Chris Vizeer. It was 81-80 after Joe Gray hit two free throws with 36 seconds left, but Smith and Collins each hit a pair of free throws down the stretch to nail down the win.

"Alton played extremely well," said Warrior Coach Don Deterding. "I'm disappointed in the outcome, of course, but I can't fault my kids. They played hard."

One factor that hurt the Warriors was a number of missed layups. On at least four occasions, the Warriors broke away for what should have been easy baskets, but the ball would not fall in a 5-point game, that hurts.

"We gave them an awful lot of layups and we missed some of ours," Deterding said. "That could be because they were thinking about Alton's ability to leap, but you still should not miss them."

The Redbirds didn't miss many layups or any other kind of shot. They were 8-for-8 in the first quarter, which they came out of leading only 19-17. They made 13-of-16 shots in the third quarter and 6-of-7 in the final period. In the second quarter, they made "only" 10-of-17, a measly 59 percent.

"We've shot pretty well all year," said Alton Coach Steve McAfoos. "The thing that pleased me tonight was our free throw shooting. That was something we hadn't done so well."

The Redbirds canned 11-of-13 free throws, including 8-of-10 in the fourth quarter when they held off a furious Warrior rally.

Granite City jumped to an early 10-6 edge before a packed house at the West Middle School Gym, but Alton came back behind the play of Smith, the 6-3 senior guard who could be the best player in the state. He is headed for the University of Illinois next year.

Smith scored 13 points in the opening stanza, and Alton had a 19-12 lead before a technical on Smith for arguing a foul. Tim Hogan made the technical shot, then scored a basket. Vizeer followed with another basket before the buzzer to make it 19-17.

Smith picked up his third foul with 5:46 left in the second quarter and Alton ahead by 4 points. But the Warriors could connect only 7-of-17 shots in that quarter and Alton got offense from Collins, Tony Herd and Matt Hausmann. Ten Redbird points in a row gave them a 35-22 lead.

But with the score 37-24, the Warriors came back. A technical on Col-

"Collins was fantastic for them," Deterding said. "The great players will score the points when their team needs them."

"Bobby asserted himself with Larry on the bench," McAfoos said. "He doesn't always do that."

The Redbirds led, 65-54, after three, and 69-56 early in the fourth when the Warriors came back. Vizeer, Tim Hogan, Taylor and Gray cut the margin, but it was still 79-72 for Alton when Smith connected with 2:28 left. Then Taylor made two free throws, Hogan hit a jump shot, and Vizeer scored underneath to give the lead to a single point with 1:07 left.

"He's a tough little player," McAfoos said of Hogan. "He's not very big, but he never stops working."

Sophomore guard Tim Simmons canned two free throws with 44 seconds left, but Gray made two himself 8 seconds later. Smith then got the ball and dribbled the time away until he was fouled with 11 seconds left. He made both shots to seal the win.

"We wanted to foul anybody but Smith in that situation," Deterding said. "But he was the one that had the ball."

ins for touching the rim began the turnaround. Collins was called for goaltending on the play and Hogan made two more technical shots when McAfoos argued the call.

"That was a 5-point swing for them," said McAfoos, who had a more friendly conversation with the officials after the game than he had with them at the time of the call.

The Warriors scored 12 unanswered points, but Doug Brooks scored for Alton before the intermission to give the Birds a 39-36 edge.

Alton pulled away in the third quarter behind the shooting of Collins. With Smith on the bench much of the quarter, the 6-4 senior pumped in 7-of-8 shots.

Conalco Booters win tournament

The Conalco Booters soccer team of Granite City won the under 18 boys division of the Jamestown Invitational soccer tournament. The event was held at the Dellwood Soccer Facility in St. Louis.

The Booters, the only Illinois team entered in the two divisions of under 18 teams, went 3-1 in the tournament.

Wins over the North County Blast and Jamestown Stars earned the local team a berth in the title game against West 75, who handed the Booters their only loss in an earlier round.

However, the Booters avenged that loss to win the championship. Team members included: Bill Aleksandrian, Bret Broadwater, Brett Bjorkman, Jeff Boyd, Randy Chapman, Jeff Cooper, Rusty Eldridge, Mike Kouch, Mike Selter, Ron Shanbro, Scott Strack, Paul Sutter, Rob Swanson and Jim Parker. Coaches are Mary Wallace and Dale Swanson.

The team is sponsored by Consolidated Aluminum Co. of Granite City.

Forestry commission meetings

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Forestry Development Commission, a temporary study group created under the state's Forestry Development Act in 1983, will conduct its five final monthly meetings in 1986.

The public is welcome to attend the sessions, all of which are at 9 a.m. in the Department of Agriculture conference room at the Agriculture Center in Springfield.

Meetings are slated Jan. 21, Feb. 18, Mar. 18, Apr. 22 and May 20. The commission expires on June 30, the deadline for submitting to the General Assembly its report on forestry conditions in the state, future demands on forestry and recommendations on how the demands can be met.

Since its first meeting in December 1984, the 25-member, non-paid board has been investigating opportunities for increasing employment and economic growth through the development of forest resources in a manner that will maintain soil and water conservation goals and enhance wildlife habitats.

For further information on the commission and its meetings, call Dennis Tucker at 217-782-2361.

Warriors steamroll Comets

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — It was target practice for the Granite City hockey team Monday night.

The Warriors launched 59 shots at McCluer goaltender Dave Salmons and routed the Comets 13-1 at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Granite City is now 10-6 in the Mid-State Club Hockey Association (4-3 in the North Division).

Bill Moore scored three goals while Todd Hinterser, Doug Suess and Lee Schreiber each added two goals apiece. The game was never in doubt.

"The only bad part about playing a game like this is that you can develop some bad habits," said Granite City coach Garry Henson. "The main thing is that you have to stop running around and turning into a big game of hand ball with everybody going after the puck."

Granite City wasted little time in dismantling the undermanned Comets. The Warriors scored two times in the game's first five minutes on goals by Hinterser and Richie Grogan.

The score was 3-0 after the first period, one that saw the Warriors outshoot McCluer 23-2. Both of the Comet shots were harmless.

The lack of action made for a light workout for Warrior goalie Tom Schefke, who handled just nine shots.

"It's really tough for a goalie," Henson said. "They stand back there and get cold." Salmons, on the other hand, could have easily been awarded a Purple Heart for his actions. He saw non-stop fire as players were constantly by the goal crease.

Only a freshman, Salmons has been through it before. Early in the season, defending league champion Desmet recorded 49 shots in the first period and scored 15 goals.

McCluer has won just one time this season, beating Bishop DuSburg. DuSburg did not win a single game last season.

For the Warriors Monday's victory extended Granite City's winning streak to four games. Three of the wins came over league powers Lafayette, Parkway West and Parkway Central.

"We just concluded a three game set of some of the most exciting hockey we have played in Granite City," Henson said. "We passed and well, killed off penalties and did a good job of back checking."

We played far better than I expected," Henson added.

The Warriors were 6-6 when they played Parkway West on Dec. 28 and were reeling. They were blasted by Desmet and dropped two key division games to McCluer North and Hazelwood Central.

"Quite frankly those two games could very well cost us the division championship," Henson said.

"Overall we didn't play that bad but we just couldn't put the puck in." Wins in the division are important.

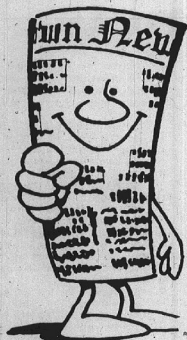

This year, new Mid-State rules for determining division champions will be based on win-loss record in your own division.

Granite City will have a chance to pick up some points when they play
